Food Hygiene Regulation

Food Hygiene Regulations in Germany are known as the LMHV (Lebensmittelhygiene-Verordnung)

The German 'Food Hygiene Regulation (LMHV)' is intended to implement the EU food hygiene regulations and serve to carry them out; It also contains national regulations for "specific questions", ie exceptions to EU law and additional general food hygiene principles.

You will be required to study LMHV and send us a written summary.

You can find further information in our section named LMHV Guidelines.
